Changing a FC Tradition

The 1974 edition of May Sing, the annual song-fest event, this year closed the Greek Week festivities. Highlights of the occasion were the crowning of Tri-Delt Heather Gray as May Queen, the announcements of Gold Quill, Laurels, Blue Key, and Lancers memberships, and, of course, the singing. This year competition was divided into two categories: novelty and traditional. Winners in the traditional category were the women of Franklin Independent Women and Unaffiliated Women; winners in the novelty division were the women of Zeta Tau Alpha.

The Franklin Independent Women and the Unaffiliated Women, led by Bev Fuller, won the traditional category.

Phi Delta Theta, directed by Phil Wagoner, entered the traditional category.

Lambda Chi Alpha, directed by David Hay, also entered the traditional division.

5-4 Season With Over 1000 Yards in Rushing

The highlight of this year's football season was the retiring of senior full-back Ron Doyle's number 34. In addition to having a brilliant four-year career, Doyle also broke or matched nine records during the 1973 football season.

CC Team Spirit High Despite Off Season

Although the Franklin harriers won two dual meets against Marian, they finished their season with a 2-6 win-loss record. Coach Noel Marquis feels that Grizzly runners were good in 1973, although not enough for the larger school competition they faced. A better 1974 season is anticipated.

Boyd Mazingo appears to be the victim of an opponent's cross-body-ride.

Four years ago, Harold "Butch" Lawson took over as head coach of the Franklin College Grizzlies. With him began three freshmen: Vip Hopson, Kevin Kane, and Max Bassler, on their wrestling careers. These three, with the help of Coach Lawson, built a wrestling dynasty in four years that Franklin College had never seen before.

In these four years, FC won 117 meets, tied two, and lost 18. Included in wins were district championships, Little State titles, and other invitational crowns.

The 1973-74 season was no different as the Grizzlies compiled a 33-3 win-loss record en route to the Little State tourney, Franklin Invitational crown, and runner-up in the North Central Invitational.

No varsity wrestler had a losing season this year as the Grizzlies cruised their way to an impressive dual meet record of 8-2, losing only to Purdue by five points and to Wabash by one point.

Students Create Change at Franklin College

Winter Term: A Creation of Ideas and Actions

Winter term offers students to "get away" from the rigors of academic studies as they can choose to take a course not in their major, or not even in the academic area. Students may even create their own courses if they desire. Above left: Dr. Yu-long Ling demonstrates a self defense technique and, above, right: the self defense class warms up for practice. Franklin College 1973-74 has begun its own renaissance: not only with the annual influx of new students and staff who bring their new ideas; but also with new curricula changes—the conversion to the “six school” system; the renovation of existing buildings; the construction of the new gymnasium. Franklin College is constantly undergoing change . . . who can tell what the school will be in five years, or even next year?? One thing is certain—this change—this renaissance—will reflect and include the ideas and attitudes of those who attend. vlf.
